Arab Boycott Is Confirmed

JERUSALEM, (CP)—The Arab higher committee has rejected a British invitation to attend the Sept. 9 London conference on Palestine, four members of the committee executive announced Saturday after an extraordinary session.

A representative of the committee gave the answer to Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, British high commissioner, saying the committee could not accept the invitation "except upon the principles and conditions laid down by the Palestine Arabs that they have the sole right to choose their political leader and have in fact unanimously chosen the Mufti of Jerusalem."

Gen. Cunningham informed the committee Thursday that the British government was not prepared to invite the Mufti, who was accused of collaboration with the Nazis during the war.

Earlier Dr. Hussein Khalidi, Arab committee member, indicated the organization would boycott the conference because of the British refusal to invite the Mufti and would ask other Arab states to do likewise.

Americans Free All But One Of Germans Held as Spies

FRANKFURT, Germany, (AP)—Col. C. P. Fritzsche, deputy United States army intelligence chief in Europe, disclosed Saturday that all but one of 15 Germans arrested on suspicion of Soviet-sponsored espionage in the American occupation zone of Germany have been released from jail.

Col. Fritzsche said the only one still in custody was Walter Kazanek, alleged leader of the Russian-sponsored clandestine organization known as "Free Germany."

He declined comment on the reason for the release of the other 14 suspects and would not say whether charges had been filed against Kazanek.

Col. Fritzsche would not even say when the 14 were freed. All were posted up several months ago as a result of what the United States army described as "evidence of Soviet espionage and subversive political activity."

This operation has been going on for five months—Col. Fritzsche said—and they may have been released months ago.

"This operation still is continuing and we cannot disclose information now that might jeopardize our future operations."

Intelligence officers at army headquarters said the activities of the "Free Germany" group were not necessarily espionage and that Soviet propaganda was the principal objective. They said the "Free Germany" organization was formed in Moscow under Russian sponsorship, and originally had 1,000 members. Germans converted to Communism by indoctrination in Russia.

Canada Proposal Stirs Russian Ire

PARIS, (CP)—The most heated controversy of the peace conference in which Canada was directly involved was touched off Friday by a mild Canadian proposal at a meeting of the Italian economic commission.

Dana Wilgress, Canadian ambassador to Russia, had proposed the commission's decision on the question of Russia's $100,000,000 reparations claim for Italy be postponed until the claims of other countries are considered.

Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, promptly answered with two angry speeches, charging Canada with "blocking the work of the commission and Russia's modest reparations claims."

The Russian delegate spoke with more annoyance and vigor than he has used since he attacked Britain during the Greek debate in the United Nations security council last week in London.

Mr. Wilgress argued a delay in the reparations claim would clarify the whole Italian reparations picture.

Mr. Vishinsky jumped to his feet to declare this was a new attempt to block work here and postpone "satisfaction of equitable claims by the Soviet Union."

He referred to Mr. Wilgress by name, unusual at the conference, and said that as ambassador to Moscow the Canadian should know how much Russia suffered and what her just claims were.

Mr. Wilgress assured Mr. Vishinsky that the Canadian was not making any obstacle in the way of work to defer Soviet claims. Dr. E. R. Walker, Australian delegate, then supported Canada and Mr. Vishinsky spoke again more heatedly than before, charging "Australia is conspiring with Canada or Canada is conspiring with Australia. I don't know which."

He rejected Mr. Wilgress' conciliatory statement as "insincere."

Suggestion Defeated

Mr. Wilgress insisted his proposal put to a vote and it was defeated 15 to 5 with the four dominions and Brazil backing it. The Big Four—who had recommended the Russian reparations clause in the first place—were not voting against the deferment plan.

Observers were surprised that Mr. Vishinsky made such a violent attack on what was a comparatively mild issue. It is generally believed, however, he was anticipating a proposition that Canada, Australia, and several other western countries are advancing, that a commission be established to handle the execution of reparations payments from Italy to Russia and other claiming states.

Say Gold Strike At Gordon Lake

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T.—Reports that a gold strike has been made at Gordon Lake, 30 miles north of Yellowknife, have caused a stir here. A federal mines inspector has left to check on the reports.

Jack Woolgar, who prospected the section in 1939 before the war, as an R.C.A.P. pilot, made the find. He returned to the same property last year but his samples were not impressive until this spring. Finally about to give up, he was waiting for a plane to take him to Edmonton when he went back to the claim.

On his last search, he is reported to have found good showings of ore.

Some mining men say the prospect definitely will make a promising mine.

Judge's Condition Still "Dangerous"

CALGARY, (CP)—Condition of Judge J. L. Crawford of Edmonton, dangerously ill in Holy Cross hospital here, improved Friday.

Judge Crawford, 78 and retired, suffered a stroke last week and was removed to his home from Vancouver.

District Farms Reap Fine Crop to Help a Starving World

Like fortune's horn of plenty, lush crops in the Edmonton district are expected to pour forth a fine crop this year to help fill the granaries of a starving world. In the top picture, Ruth Llewellyn, who lives with her parents on a farm north of Spruce Grove, holds a bundle of oats that is expected to yield about 75 bushels to the acre. Comely Ruth, her hair in braids, was busy milking the cows when a photographer and reporter came to take her picture. The lower photograph shows a field of wheat stalks on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Canis, south of Spruce Grove, with the town's elevators, church steeple, station and other buildings in the background. Though partly haled, this field is expected to yield about 35 to 39 bushels to the acre.—Photographs by William Kennd.

Claims Has Device Cheap Atomic Power

BUFFALO, (AP)—A Buffalo industrialist offered Saturday to demonstrate to "skeptical" scientists a device he claimed would produce inexpensive atomic power.

Dr. Alden Miller, vice-president of the Buffalo Machinery company, said that he had developed a "radioactive" device which he claimed would produce a "small-scale" atomic energy and are playing it up with fancy charts and fancy-sounding scientific names trying to make people think it is something supernatural.

"They forget," he said, "that it was used for shooting oil well fires 15 years ago. It was then known as high-powered uranium and was used in a stock of dynamite to boost the charge."

Miller announced last Saturday before a group of scientists that he had a patent on a "rectifier" which he said produced a combustible gas, "C" uranium. This gas might ultimately be expected to power a locomotive from coast to coast for less than a dollar, he said.

Both city folk and farmers are rejoicing because a big harvest means good times, and good times mean happy, prosperous days for all.

A cruise by car into the country around Edmonton revealed busy farms for farmers, a bumper crop in most areas, busy, fat cattle and hogs.

Wives Are Busy

Farmers' wives are busy, too; busy canning vegetables from gardens and fruit, cleaning up the chores so that father can have more time on the binder, fixing the youngsters' clothes, for school opening, milking, cleaning, tending the turkey and chicken flocks. Some are working in the fields.

South of Spruce Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Canis were busy side by side in the field, stooping wheat and oats. Their crop suffered a bit from hail but came along fine during the warm weather.

Binders Hum in Edmonton Area As Farmers Garner Fine Crop

The fine, good earth in the Edmonton district, assisted by spells of warm sunshine, is yielding a bumper crop this year.

There's less stonking now. The sun's rays are finding their way to remote corners of the globe.

But even as the farmers spend long hours in the fields from sunrise to sunset, the days are getting shorter, the nights longer and the chances for heavy frost greater.

LUMBERMAN DIES

VANCOUVER, (CP)—Otto Koerner, 32, prominent British Columbia lumberman, died Friday in his office.

He was president of the University of British Columbia moved into a new home Friday—an old army hut with a tarpaper roof. Dr. MacKenzie helped his wife and three children and a gang of students unload furniture into the 30-room hut at Acadia camp.

At first it was believed the man had drowned in the lake at Alberta beach, when previous there said a man answering Rothwell's description had taken out a boat.

R.C.M.P. Saturday said no boat is missing and that Mrs. Rothwell said she last had seen her husband Sunday, Aug. 18, when he left the house in the car. He had been detected and temperamental, she said. His auto was found abandoned in front of the Alberta beach hotel.

Still No Trace Of Missing Man Murder Suspected In Woman's Death

LAC LA BICHE—Foul play has been suspected in the death of Julia Desjarlais, whose body was found Wednesday in a shallow pond.

R.C.M.P. have started an intensive investigation into the young woman's death, and were said to be basing their investigation on a suspicion of murder.

Heard into the death was held with Dr. J. P. Desjardis in charge. The jury returned an open verdict. Testimony was given by Dr. J. W. McGregor, who examined the body.

Julia Desjarlais was the sister of St. Desjarlais and was engaged with his cousin George Desjarlais for the murder of Carl Hemmingson three years ago.

Remains have been released to relatives and will be buried today in the Lac La Biche cemetery. Rev. J. M. McCreague officiating. The family live at Big Bay.

Given Jail Term Over Strike Fracas

HAMILTON, (CP)—Paul Pivovarov, 24-year-old Hamilton steel striker, Friday was sentenced to 21 days on a charge of aggravated assault. The charge arose out of a fracas Aug. 24 when Pivovarov was seen of hitting another worker, 27, an employee of Steel Company of Canada, who had been working in the plant.

Russia, Britain Clash on Greece

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia and Great Britain fought stubbornly Friday night in the United Nations Security Council over hearing Ukrainian charges against Germany. The council was scheduled to meet next Tuesday, two days after the Greek plebiscite on the island of Crete.

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain led the attack on hearing the Ukrainian charges, which Greece is denouncing the peace of the Balkans with the statement they are "wild accusations." He demanded the council refuse to hear them in their present form.

The anti-Nazi German leaders, for all of whom the death penalty has been demanded by the prosecution, present a far different appearance than they did when they first took their seats in the dock on Nov. 1945.

Nine months of listening to the charges against the Germans, with which they are charged, and to the efforts of their defense lawyers to offset their records, has changed them physically and mentally.

Wild Animals Disappearing As Civilization Marches On

WASHINGTON, (NANA)—Slowly but surely, wild animals are disappearing from a man-dominated world. In the nearly 2,000 years of the Christian era alone, approximately 100 species and sub-species of mammals have become extinct.

And the rate of extinction is accelerating. More than 60 percent of the birds have been exterminated in the last half-century, and nearly half of them during the last half-century.

Such is the revelation of a report issued by the American committee for international wildlife protection. North America has been almost the worst offender—accounting for 27 extinct species. The worst picture is afforded by the West Indies where, since the landing of Columbus, 41 types of animals have completely disappeared.

Easy Existence
The species have vanished in the West Indies because of natural senility. They were almost in an Eden. Very few food-eating animals lived there. The result was that there was little struggle for existence. The units as well as the fit survived and bred freely. The result, according to the conclusion of the committee, was that stocks became weakened to the point where they could not survive.

Europe's record is very good. Only six species have become extinct in 2,000 years and most of these disappeared early. They include the European lion, wild horse and bison. The chief reason for the survival of most European mammals, it is held, is the severe restrictions placed on hunting which, until recently, have been confined largely to private estates.

Good European Record
Asia also has a very good record. One of its mammals in present danger of extinction is the rhinoceros, due largely to the high value set on its horns in powdered form in Chinese medicine.

Inquest Adjoined In Woman's Death

MAPLE CREEK, Sask. (CP)—An inquest into the death of Maude Slobodin, 21-year-old telephone operator in the town about 240 miles west of Regina, Friday was adjourned to Monday.

The body of Miss Slobodin, whose parents live on a nearby farm, was found last Sunday in the telephone exchange here.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers and the Regina coroner are being detained in connection with the death. Their names were not revealed.

R.C.M.P. superintendent W. Morton stated the girl died in "circumstances" but refused to comment further.

100,000 Students Going to Varsity

TORONTO, (CP)—About 100,000 young Canadians—a good proportion of them veterans of the armed services—are trekking into universities from coast to coast for the new term, and next month will see the highest concentration of students jammed to the doors.

Several universities have spent thousands of dollars on summer projects to handle the vast influx of students. The problem of housing the students, many of them with wives and families, and the accommodation question has been handled in various ways.

A survey by the Canadian Press shows that it's going to be a problem in many places, but on the whole the arrangements should be adequate, even if they don't allow for the future.

All universities report higher enrollment than last year, and several have reached the highest figures in their history.

The University of Manitoba expects possibly 6,000 students, and will probably be crowded.

Some temporary quarters are being built for married students but not much more than that. The first year engineering classes will be transferred to the main university area in Peter Garry to relieve pressure on the junior colleges.

The University of Alberta set a record last year with 3,447 students, and this year expects more. Special accommodation is being erected on the campus elsewhere for married and single veterans.

The University of British Columbia advises war veteran students with wives, bringing in anything that will serve as a house—that the university will attach power and water service at a flat rate. Army huts will accommodate 400 students.

Claims Palestine U.S. Problem Too

LONDON, (ONA)—Recent events in the Middle East have convinced the United States that it "cannot dissociate itself completely from a solution to the Palestine problem," a prominent British official said.

He asserted also, with respect to the roundtable conference on Palestine now scheduled to be held Sept. 9, that the British were hopeful that ultimately the conference would succeed.

"Of course," he remarked, "there will be labor troubles unqualified since the period after the First Great War."

He predicted, finally, that a "clarification of the American attitude toward Palestine" could be expected only after the November elections.

Labor Troubles Affect Thousands

OTTAWA, (CP)—Canada's second post-war Labor day Monday will see labor troubles unqualified since the period after the First Great War.

With 50,000 workers on strike, thousands more workers are feeling the pinch of material shortages resulting from strikes.

The basic issue is wages and in some of the disputes it is an issue between unions and the government. The disputes stem back to a drive, started by a number of unions—most of them affiliated with the Canadian Congress of Labor—early this year. The drive was for higher wages and shorter hours.

It took effect in a wave of summer strikes which hit rubber, electrical, textile and steel plants as well as British Columbia logging camps. Most of those strikes still are in effect with emphasis on the steel stoppage, involving 15,000 persons.

The French need the German prisoner of war labor mostly in the Moselle area, which includes Metz and Nancy. But its proximity to the Saar is a constant invitation to the German government to demand that it be handed over freely in the area.

Puppet Emperor Before Trial

Apparently undisturbed by his forthcoming appearance at the war trials court in Tokyo, Henry Pu-yi (right), former puppet emperor of Manchuria, laughs as he meets Joseph B. Keenan (centre), head of the war tribunal prosecution section. At the left is Col. Alexander Ivanov, who carried Pu-yi from Khabarovsk.

When he appeared on the stand later, Pu-yi defended his acceptance of the Manchurian throne on the ground that the alternative would have been a death sentence.

Germans Eager for Homeland; One Escapes Each Half-Hour

BAIDEN-BADEN, French Zone of Germany, (NANA)—Escapes—calculated at one every half hour—are gathering the French frontier authorities in occupied Germany. They are not escapes out of the country, but into it. One escapee is caught every half hour.

Most of the latter come through the Maginot line area, which seems to be still as imaginary as it was in the war. The authorities claim they eventually capture a lot of them and send them back to work, but only about half have actually been caught. About 10,000 prisoners who escaped in July worked their way out of the department of the Moselle into the neighboring German province of the Saar.

Rainfall Fails Halt Harvesting

Final weekly rainfall report of Seagrain company elevator agents, for the season, shows harvest operations little hampered by rains. The few points reporting for the week ending Wednesday noted an average of only one-quarter inch of precipitation. Delmar had 3/8 of an inch but several other points had none.

Big Four Revive Hopes For Peace

PARIS, (CP)—The Big Four meeting, more successful than most delegates thought possible, has given the peace conference new hope.

With another such meeting planned for early next week, it is believed there is a good chance now that the conference will receive the guidance it desperately needs to make progress.

Still another favorable sign is the rapidly with which the French commission is racing through the British treaty. Even more speed is expected in the Romanian, Bulgarian and Hungarian commissions.

A leading member of the British delegation has become sufficiently optimistic to predict privately that the Balkan treaties may be finished in two weeks.

The Italian treaty, however, is going to take long deliberation and some diplomatic sources talk in terms of months.

But the Big Four meeting helped tremendously to give the conference a fresh spirit when it was at its lowest ebb.

Delegates applauded Canadian efforts in initiating the proposal for such a meeting. The French newspaper Le Monde, which generally speaks for the French government, called special attention to the fact that Canada had advanced the idea.

Feel U.S. to Stay in Japan To Block Russian Influence

TOKYO, (AP)—Although the military phase of the occupation is nearly complete, United States forces may remain indefinitely in Japan to hold what is regarded here as the eastern anchor of a world-wide American line against Soviet Russia and Communism.

This is evident at the first anniversary of the signing of Japan's surrender.

It is no secret the conflict between Russia and western ideologies will be one of the dominant aspects of the second year of the occupation.

Visible Soviet activities are limited at present to extensive and increasing propaganda and probably considerable abroad advice to Japanese Communists.

But it is generally felt here the Soviets would move in immediately upon any complete American military withdrawal, ready to fill the power vacuum.

Both sides are playing a cat-and-mouse game here and in Korea watching each other closely behind the surface niceties of diplomatic custom. Their differences frequently erupt into such open clashes as the military incidents in Korea or the only slightly restrained debates of Tokyo's four-power council.

Feel U.S. to Stay in Japan To Block Russian Influence

TOKYO, (AP)—Although the military phase of the occupation is nearly complete, United States forces may remain indefinitely in Japan to hold what is regarded here as the eastern anchor of a world-wide American line against Soviet Russia and Communism.

This is evident at the first anniversary of the signing of Japan's surrender.

It is no secret the conflict between Russia and western ideologies will be one of the dominant aspects of the second year of the occupation.

Visible Soviet activities are limited at present to extensive and increasing propaganda and probably considerable abroad advice to Japanese Communists.

Tourists See Operation North Roll Along Alaska Highway

By Hal Pawson
PORT NELSON.—If it saw nothing else of interest in its second day's reconnaissance run up the Alaska Highway, the Canadian Army's Exercise North saw several interesting parties of Americans. They were Americans, and they were located permanently in Alaska. They had something to say of the road, their countrymen built. The good road surface amazed them all. As a man they asked the Canadian why Canada kept a barrier back at Mile 101, Blueberry, B.C. beyond which none without permits could pass.

Not that the barrier gave them any trouble. In fact, the ease with which they passed it surprised them. In view of what they claim they were told in Edmonton. All Americans encountered both going up and coming down the road Thursday told this representative that at Edmonton they were warned their cars would be put through a rigid inspection at Dawson Creek and at the barrier. If it was not in first class mechanical shape it would be turned back permit or no permit.

Loudly Impressed
They encountered no such checks. They were annoyed to think that they had been unduly impressed in Edmonton although readily admitted the necessity of keeping any but good vehicles off the road because of the distances between repair points.

But this question was not in their minds. First was why does Canada not allow Canadians beyond point 101 to develop the country beyond Port St. John and Nelson. The same question was foremost in the minds of the "natives" living in almost complete seclusion along the road.

Jim Poole, trapper for 34 years west of Trutch, or Mile 201 stated "I'm the last man who should want to see this country opened. I've made about $1000 on any normal year just trapping up here since before the last war. But I know it's only the right thing to do. Right now, if the government would let them, three oil companies would be in here drilling. That's just one thing. He was talking of a break-off in the Pink mountains, 40 miles southeast of Trutch.

Survey Parties
He was talking of survey parties from three different major oil companies at that moment working in the area. He was angered that his offered objections to the fact they could not officially fish between Dawson Creek and the Alaska border. They could not buy permits. Exercise North press party watched Jim Poole pull in a Dolly, a golden trout touching three pounds.

The fish struck while already in the act of devouring a greyling. The unfished brooks were teeming with fighting fish begging for the hook.

Another main complaint, getting back to the highway construction officials, was that tourists could not get an Alaska highway permit until they satisfied officials they carried certain spare parts. These included generator brushes, distributor points, a new coil and several electrical replacements.

Bought Spare Parts
Tourists bought approximately $15 worth of spare parts in Edmonton before they got their permit. Last complaint was that in Edmonton, and Dawson Creek, Alaska highway travellers were ordered to carry 15 gallons of spare gasoline, over and above the capacity of their car. Some of the Americans remember a late July snow storm that covered the road with an 18-inch blanket between the Buckinghorse river and Port Nelson, broke down millions

Archbishop Says Co-operation Vital

TORONTO, (CP).—Church and state have "a mission from God" and only by sincere co-operation will they succeed in establishing "a true brotherhood of man," said Most Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, as he was welcomed to Toronto Friday.

I do not believe the church should dominate the state or that the state should disregard the church," he said. "Only in true co-operation can we get through this queer and disturbing stage of human history. All we have is of God and can be truly enjoyed by obedience to God."

The archbishop will attend the general synod of the Church of England in Canada at Winnipeg next week when plans for closer co-operation with the United Church of Canada will be discussed. Of these plans, he said, there are no insurmountable barriers between a union of the Protestant churches.

Norway's whaling industry is getting back to prewar volume.

Italian Partisans Still Armed, Angry

ROME, (AP).—Italy became acutely aware this week that thousands of partisans who fought the Germans and Fascists in northern Italy are still active, that they possess arms and apparently can be mobilized in short order.

Many Italians asked how much, if any, control did the Communist party exercise over these tough ex-querrillas who took to the hills by the hundreds, in protest, it was reported, against government delay in granting them work and pensions.

The threat of a general uprising appeared to have faded as only a few hundred partisans still remained in the woods and mountains following a cabinet decision to meet most of their demands. But the problem in its broader aspects still remained.

The widespread bloodless uprising grew out of a relatively trivial incident. A young ex-partisan known as "Armando" was discharged from the auxiliary police force at Asil.

Immediately he and 30 other ex-partisans gathered up their arms and took to the hills, "occupying" the village of Santo Stefano Belbo.

From there they let it be known they would not come down until "Armando" was reinstated.

As though by pre-arranged signals, hundreds of other ex-partisans, mainly in the regions of Piedmont and Liguria, followed "Armando's" example and left in full formations, for hills and woods. Persistent spread throughout northern Italy but national partisan leaders succeeded in preventing a general uprising while they negotiated with the government in Rome.

Picturesque old Fishermen's church in Hastings, Eng., closed during the war, may soon be reopened.

Labor Day

Next Monday is Labor Day and everywhere throughout North America there will be celebrations to attest to the dignity and usefulness of manual accomplishment.

In a more particular way, Labor Day is associated with that vital social phenomenon which has come to be known as the "labor movement", that timely upheaval of protest designed to establish the very just claims of those who "work with their hands" to an economic parity with those who "work with their heads". It is an effort which has enjoyed considerable success to the point where those who presumably work with their heads are presently experiencing some difficulty in maintaining an economic parity with those who work or refrain from working with their hands.

Be that as it may, no one will deny in this enlightened age that labor has a dignity and a unique worth that moved even the dour Carlyle to rhapsody.

But the dignity and the worth of labor do not exist for labor as a mere phase of accomplishment. Labor is dignified and useful only as it includes all phases of accomplishment. In other words, when the labor movement arrives at the point of making artificial and unnatural distinctions between those who do useful things, it defeats its own ends.

For when a movement which sets out to establish a doctrine of equality comes to the place where it succeeds only in building a caste system among workers, it must admit to having somewhat wantonly over-steered a very noble mark.

The aim and purpose of all labor is production. And the nobility of labor lies in what it produces. For production is the essence of prosperity and the only source of that national wealth which permits a high standard of living and civilization.

Therefore, labor is to be honored as it produces. It is to be honored as it includes all who work, regardless of caste or kind or organization. It is to be honored as it is useful and intelligent and unselfish.

All good workers ennobles. All good workers are benefactors and deserve the highest consideration of society.

"Honest labor bears a lovely face."

Inconclusive

If the advantages of the Turnley reading system are all its author claims for it, and if tests made during the summer were as enthusiastic as he says, the Turnley reading education has missed an opportunity, which some other province may now seize, for taking leadership in the field of education. This, if what Mr. Turnley claims for his system is true, and what he claims is the unfairness of the tests, is all the more to be regretted since education is a field in which this province enjoyed some prominence, conspicuously in the department of administration but to a lesser extent also in the realm of pedagogical method.

Albert one arresting point emerges from the conclusions reached by the minister; namely that the system is unsuitable for employment under ordinary classroom conditions in Alberta schools. A fair inference would be that the need for improvement is first in classroom conditions, since it is these which seem to have prevented any decisive trial. In other words, the mass production or assembly line method of education does not lend itself to improved methods.

Or since it is admitted that no attempt was made to assess the system's value for individual instruction, it may also suggest that certain subjects lend themselves best to individual instruction and others to class tuition. This has been found true by experimenters with the Dalton system in England.

At all events, anything whatsoever which is tested only under "existing" conditions, without any attempt to assess its value under other conditions, even if inferior, cannot be said to have been fairly tested. The omission leaves a painful impression that the experimenters were not greatly concerned in a fair trial in any method that might turn out to be revolutionary, too great an improvement on "existing" conditions.

A Religious Future

There opens next Wednesday in Winnipeg a general synod of the Church of England in Canada, which may have a profound influence on the religious future of this country.

There are very weighty denominational matters to be considered, of course. There are certain revisions of the Book of Common Prayer. There are changes to be made in the canons of the Church as they affect the behavior of communicants, notably in the matter of the remarriage of divorced persons. The may be very high offices in the Church to be filled.

These things are primarily of interest to Anglicans although they do have a direct and powerful bearing on the religious life of the entire dominion.

What does, however, concern every Canadian of whatever communion or of no communion at all will be the consideration that is scheduled to be given to proposals for the reunion of the Anglican Church with the United and Presbyterian Churches.
Conversations in the latter particular have not proceeded very far as yet. Conversations towards the former particular have proceeded to a definite point and special proposals will be submitted to the synod for study.

Now it would not be fitting to argue here either for or against the complete merging of any two communions together. Doctrinal differences would make such a complete merging of identities distasteful to many in both communions.

One is not concerned, then, with the prospect that there will be any specific organizational reunion between any two Churches. But one is concerned and every Canadian with a regard for the future should be concerned, with the new Christian consciousness of the desperate need for close cooperation between all communions.

One is not contemplating a world in which all men will hold precisely the same doctrines and acknowledge exactly the same ecclesiastical discipline. But one does contemplate with eagerness a world in which all men may stand shoulder to shoulder under the one generic term of Christianity without engaging in doctrinal bitterness or dis-satisfying their Christian force in fruitless dogmatic strife.

It is important that Christians perfect some type of practical alliance because the world is either going to have a Christian civilization or no civilization at all.

If the war proved anything at all, it proved quite conclusively that there is no future for men anywhere except under a civilization based on the teachings of Christ-ianity.

That is why the Anglican stand at Winnipeg is important to all Canadians, not because it may effect an unnatural and untimely synthesis of communions, but because, by suggesting a new cooperation among communions, it may contain the germ of world peace.

Ehrenburg's Report

Russia's acute journalist, Ilya Ehrenburg, who visited Canada some months ago, is now writing his impressions of Canada for Russian readers.

He does not compliment us. We are spiritual babies, he says. We were inhospitable. We are too better off than they are and the British Crown. The Soviet spy scare was just a government device to take our minds off our misery.

Nobody imagined that Mr. Ehrenburg would go back to Russia and tell his compatriots we are much better off than they are.
Mr. Ehrenburg probably relishes Siberia no better than the next man.

But the fact that he is reduced to telling such frantic and deliberate lies about us proves that he must have been distressingly impressed with our superior way of life.

For the source of most abuse is envy.

Looking Backward From The Bulletin Files

Calgary coroner's jury returned a verdict of murder by person or persons unknown in the case of "Clinker" Scott. Neighbors who heard a fired near his home said his body was lying empty at his feet.

Court Sets Aside Sentence Increase

George Danyluk, Craighead district resident, in supreme court chambers Thursday successfully appealed against an increased sentence imposed on him by police magistrate F. A. Olsen after his trial and conviction at Lac La Biche on a charge of failing to pay certain special revenue taxes.

AT THE CONCLUSION of the trial, police magistrate Olsen imposed a three months jail sentence, or a fine of $125.

Subsequent to the disposition of the case the accused in a conversation with his wife within hearing of the police magistrate stated: "Don't cry, if it wasn't for this magistrate I would not be in jail for that long. If I could only get out of here, I would fix that right. I'll remember this for 10 years or more."

IMMEDIATELY Magistrate Olsen instructed a RCMP constable to bring the accused before him again, and to declare the court open. The magistrate then addressed the accused, and according to an affidavit sworn to by the appellant and submitted to the court by his counsel, D. J. Lazarovich, said, "since you are not satisfied your sentence will be increased to 12 months with hard labor or a fine of $500."

Mr. Justice Shepherd set aside the increased sentence and confirmed the original sentence of 125 fine or in default three months in jail.

Some Vandalism Still Going On

Although there has been some lessening of the wilful damage done to city property in recent months compared with earlier in the year, vandalism continues in certain parts of the city.

MAYOR HARRY AINLEY Friday appealed to youngsters to do a good deed and avoid wilful damage of property.

As an example of the type of damage being done, Mayor Ainsley said that in Riverside park during the last three months 34 street lamps have been broken. This means a loss to the city of more than $100, as each lamp costs $5 to replace. This is a serious waste of city finances, which might have been better spent in improving the park.

HE SAID THAT LAMPS in certain sections of the city had been broken so frequently that the electric light department had stopped replacing them, thus street lighting has been deprived to the people in the near vicinity.

Power Production Reported Higher

Product 'n' at the city power plant for the period Jan. 1 to Aug. 25 for electric requirements totalled 76,533,000 kilowatt hours compared with 72,666,600 for the same period last year, an increase of 3,867,000 kilowatt hours, according to a statement filed Friday with the city commissioners by W. I. McFarland, power superintendent. Of the 1946 production 61,375,200 was taken by the electric light department; 9,569,200 by the transportation system, and 5,588,600 by the pumping station. In the 1945 period the electric light department took 50,025,900 kilowatt hours, the transportation system, 8,188,000, and the pumping station, 5,452,700 kilowatt hours.

Cripple Sees World From Motorized Bed

Carman, Man, Aug. 21-(CP)- Seriously crippled in a truck accident, Peter Dyck has been saved from a lifetime in hospital by a strange new motor vehicle that's really a motorized bed. For want of a better name, district people call it "Peter's Jitney." Nine years ago, Dyck broke his spine in several places, and doctors told him he would never walk again. He remained in the Carman hospital until the spring of 1945, when he received a visit from garagesman J. P. Newfield of Winkler, Man. Newfield said that he thought he could build a car that would enable Dyck to get away from the hospital occasionally. A few months later, Dyck was lifted from his bed and placed stomach-downwards on his new vehicle. He soon learned to operate his "jitney" and now he travels about with no trouble at all.

Packers to Vote On Wage Boost

Employees of Canada Packers and Burns and Company in Edmonton are scheduled to vote some time early in the week on the five cents per hour increase in basic wage rates offered them by their respective companies, Jack Hampson, CIO Alberta representative, said Saturday.

THE VOTE WILL be in accordance with a referendum throughout all the plants of both companies, Mr. Hampson said, and the results will be announced from Toronto, headquarters of the UPWA union.

Mr. Hampson said the proffered increase was rejected by union delegates at Toronto when they met employers recently over new claims for wage rates and working conditions.

Mrs. G. Manning Wins Ladies' Golf Crown

Mrs. George (Mary) Manning of Mayfair became the new city ladies' golf champion on Friday when she defeated Mrs. Otto Anderson, also of Mayfair, in the final, concluding the week-long tournament held at the Mayfair Golf and Country Club.

The silver division wound up with a real thriller for a final with Mrs. Anderson forcing the contest to three extra holes before conceding the match.

THE PAIR WOUND UP all even at the end of the scheduled 72 holes. Both were very cautious when they started the extra holes and the 19th and 20th were halved. Then on the 21st Mrs. Anderson faltered and Mrs. Manning won the hole and the title.

The bronze division final also produced an exciting match for the first time since Miss Janet Anderson of Municipal defeated Mrs. Ernie Wakefield, also of Municipal on the 20th hole.

Other winners of the competition (ranked in order) were: Mrs. Angus Baron, Country Club (silver consolation); Mrs. D. Paterson, Mayfair (bronze consolation); Mrs. J. Lindsay, Municipal (bronze first flight).

MRS. LINDSAY won the top honors in the first flight of the bronze division by knocking over her roommate Mrs. F. Pricker 3 and 4. Mrs. Baron defeated Norma Cox of the Highlands 3 and 1 in one of the best matches of the day for good golf while Mrs. Paterson won in the bronze consolation by beating Mrs. Ken Caldwell one up.

Following the finals yesterday the annual banquet and meeting was held in the Mayfair clubhouse. After the dinner, Mrs. R. H. Driscoll presented the prizes.

AT THE MEETING, Mrs. W. S. Taylor of the Highlands club was named president for the coming year while other officers elected were: Mrs. M. M. Dunsworth, Highlands, secretary; Mrs. Ann Cairns, Municipal, vice-president; Mrs. J. J. McDonald, Country Club, treasurer. Club representatives are: Mrs. Herb McPherson, Mrs. Lyn Jordan, Mayfair; Mrs. Cairns, Mrs. C. Schofield, Municipal; Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Jack Forman, Country Club; Mrs. W. S. Taylor and Mrs. M. M. Dunsworth, Highlands.

Series - Bound Red Sox Beat Athletics Twice

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP) - With Tex Hughson and Jim Bagby giving artistic pitching performances, Boston Red Sox swept an American League doubleheader with the lowly Philadelphia Athletics 6-0 and 6-2 yesterday.

Hughson limited the A's to four scattered singles while gaining the shoutout that marked his 15th victory. The Soxers collected all nine runs on his pitching. Louder Knerr before chasing him from the mound with a five-run barrage in the fifth inning.

DURING the previous frame, Art Passafium, inspiring behind the plate, had his jaw, which was seriously injured in Washington earlier in the season, dislocated by a foul tip and left the game.

While Bagby was limiting the visitors to five hits in the nightcap, Rudy York bashed out his 15th homer for the Soxers against Phil MacArthur, who also went the full distance. The loss was his 13th of the season, against 11 victories.

Ted Williams was credited with only one hit for his six tries during the twin bill. The splendid splitter, great out a bust at lead-off in the eighth inning of the second game. It was his first time in such fashion since he returned from his marine flying service.

ELMER VALO, however, roned Williams of a homer in the sixth inning of the opener, when, on an out, he made a leaping glove-hand catch of a drive that was car-marked for the right fielder.

Only one other major league game was scheduled, with Philadelphia visiting New York Giants in a national league nighter.

Rovers Prolong Fastball Playoff

Both clubs picked up one run in the second but Rovers came through with three in the fourth and after that they were never in danger.

Millie Brown toiled on the hill for the winners and limited South Side to five scattered hits.

Score by innings:
Rovers: 010 301 205 - 12 13 3
South Side: 000 000 101 - 3 12

Millie Brown and Doris Feduk, Nellie Smith, Jean Clarke and Doris Martin.

Valuable Horses Lost at Winnipeg

WINNIPEG, Aug. 31 (AP) - When the fall racing meet opens at Winnipeg's Polo Park today, two horses, popular on western Canadian tracks won't be at the post to answer the familiar call: "they're off."

"High Bluff", winner of last year's Winnipeg Futurity, and "Nel's Sirocco", prominent money-making horse, both perished in the flames which late last night raged one of the stables at Winnipeg's Polo Park.

Quick work on the part of stable hands in releasing the horses onto the track and the absence of any wind kept the casualties down. Total damage is estimated at approximately $60,000.

Belter, Douziech Pitch Tomorrow

Fifth game of the best of seven series between Cardinals and Esquimaux for the Edmonton senior baseball championship will be played Sunday afternoon commencing at 3 o'clock. The sixth is scheduled for Monday at 2:30 p.m. with a seventh, if necessary at 3:30.

Ed (Lefty) Belter is expected to pitch for Esquimaux tomorrow, with Les Douziech the Cardinal choice. Both won their only start in the playoff.

The series now stands at two wins to one in favor of the Cardinals, one game resulting in a 1-1 tie.

Dyer Not Making Any Predictions

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31 (AP) - Eddie Dyer, never one to take a long lead off in his predictions, pondered today the fast-mounting wave of optimism over the Cardinal's pennant chance.

"I think it'll be a close race with Brooklyn right down to the wire," he said.

"It's going to be a tough race, and we and the Dodgers have each other to beat. I wouldn't be surprised if the last five games here with Cincinnati and three with Chicago are decisive."

The Redbirds, in a tie with Brooklyn for the National League lead Tuesday, now are sporting a margin of 2 1/2 games in the hectic race.

Edmonton-Calgary Soccer Tonight

Feature soccer game of the season will be played under the floodlights at Clark Stadium tonight when Edmonton's North Side Legion, meet Calgary Calles in the deciding game of the provincial senior soccer final. Starting time: 7:30 o'clock.

The Edmonton eleven won the opening game at Calgary last week 4-1.

QUADRUPLETS, TWO BOYS AND TWO GIRLS, BORN TO OREGON MOTHER

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED WAC'S SAIL FROM NEW YORK FOR EUROPEAN DUTY

PRE-FLIGHT—Members of Col. C. S. (Bill) Irvine's crew examine their flying clothes and special emergency equipment. They will attempt a 10,000 non-stop flight over the Arctic from Hawaii to Cairo. The flight will be made in the B-29, "Pacusan", shown in background.

NEWCOMER—Dorothy Hart is the Cleveland, Ohio, girl who won a movie contract two years ago after winning title of cover girl over 20,000 contestants. The young Western Reserve University graduate did not accept the movie offer then, feeling that she needed more experience. Hollywood feels she is ready now.

MOTHER PRESENTS DAUGHTER—Sticking close to mother, this one-day-old giraffe is a little shy on her first public appearance. She is the latest addition to the Washington, D. C. Zoo. The baby, named Twiga, is four feet tall and weighs 100 pounds. Height is measured from the withers, not the head.

WAC'S FOR EUROPE—These WACs boarding the transport George Washington in New York are saying farewell to the U. S. for a tour of duty in Europe. They are part of a detachment of 75 enlisted women and 75 officers. All will replace WACs now serving with the occupation forces.

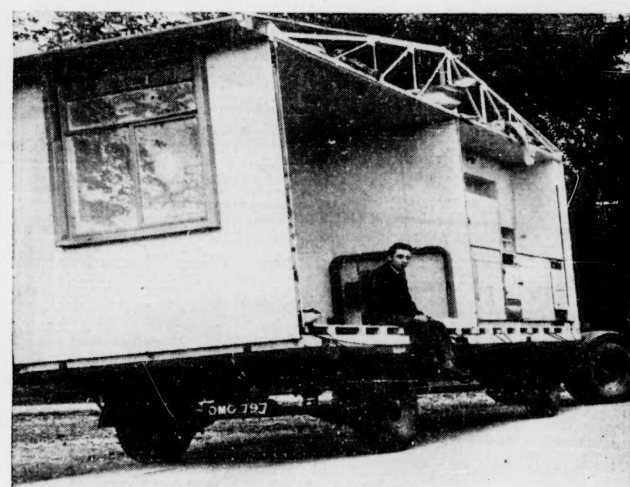

PRODUCER JAILED—George White, 52, noted producer, is protesting in San Diego, Calif., jail after being sentenced to a one year term for "hit and run" accident. Two persons were killed. The showman was fined $600 in addition to jail sentence.

FOUR FOR ONE—Mrs. L. D. Tigner, of Portland, Ore., smiles proudly as she holds her quadruplets, two boys and two girls. Totalling 29 pounds, the smallest of the four weighed four pounds, eight ounces. At last report, the mother and "quads" were doing fine.

FOOTPRINTED — "Baby" Bacall helps her husband, Humphrey Bogart, place the imprint of his foot in a concrete slab in forecourt of Grauman's Chinese theater in Hollywood. Theoretically this makes him famous.

OFF THE ASSEMBLY LINE—This kitchen section is one of four that comprise a prefabricated house. This is Cheltenham, England's answer to the housing problem. All aluminum, the structure is installed in thirty minutes.

HONEYMOON IN A JEEP—Former Army flier, William V. Fitzsimmons, holds hands with his bride on the rear of their jeep. Married in Chicago, they will tour the Northwest and Canada in the small vehicle that was made famous during the war. The flier took part in air raids on the Ploesti oil fields.

AUSTRIA REBUILDS—These displaced persons are repairing roads and bridges in Austria. Damage was the result of floods, not war. Salvador A. Cazeaux, left, UNRRA officer, discusses progress of the job with foreman of the gang, Ratnoff Oleg.

CIRCUS TIME—Before going back to school, these youngsters of East Side, New York City put on a circus for other kids in the neighborhood. Program is part of the summer schedule of The Educational Alliance. Five hundred children watched the performers.

JOHN G. MACDONNELL

Veteran of Navy Admitted to Bar

Distinguished veteran of World War Two, a graduate in arts at St. Francis Xavier, Antigonish, Nova Scotia, and in law at the University of Alberta, John Gregory MacDonnell was admitted to the Alberta bar by Mr. Justice H.H. Parke in a colorful ceremony Saturday morning at the court house.

HE WAS PRESENTED BY L.V. Cairns, K.C. to whom he has been admitted since his release from naval services.

Mr. MacDonnell was born at Castor, N.S., and is the son of D.D. and Mrs. MacDonnell, Edmonton, Ont. He took his preliminary education in the city's separate schools, his B.A. at St. Francis Xavier, and his law work at the University of Alberta, under the late Dean Weir, graduating in 1941 with the class that has come to be known as the "Lewiston" class.

IMMEDIATELY following graduation, Mr. MacDonnell joined the Royal Canadian Navy and served until the end of the war. He was then employed as a probationary sub-lieutenant, but received promotion and in 1945 was in command of HMCS Portage, a ship of the Albatross class, doing escort work on the Atlantic between Canada and Britain.

He resigned from the service in September 1945 and has been admitted to Mr. Cairns since that date. During his year under articles he was a member of the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce, and active in the work of the chamber.

MR. MACDONNELL proposes to take post-graduate work at the University of Toronto, leading to his master's degree the first year, and then he intends to proceed to his Doctor of Jurisprudence.

TO VISIT CITY
A. E. Purcell, National Museum of Canada, is expected to arrive in Edmonton Friday evening for a brief visit. Mr. Purcell is touring Western Canada, on an inspection tour of national parks.

Edmonton Journal Edmonton Bulletin School Days are Here Again on Tuesday

BY HILDA EBBERS

No day is quite as important in the life of youngsters as that on which they set out for their first day of school, as many children in this city and throughout Alberta will do when school opens at 9 a.m. next Tuesday. Mixed emotions of eager anticipation, fright and a feeling of having really grown up beset young minds, as the children stand alone in the world for the first time in their young lives, and find it a strange, frightening place.

TO THE "HARDENED" upper class children, the first day of school is nothing new and after donning their very best frogs and having a hurried breakfast, they dash off to the big brick building for more lessons in the "Three R's" but to the young ones, just past their sixth birthday, it is the beginning of a new adventure, an interesting if not exciting incident.

TIGHTLY GRIPPING the hand of mothers, the first day of school is a mixture of fun and work. While the important day begins early for the children, thousands of mothers throughout the city begin their preparations for the children's first day of school. The children are ready for school, the mothers are ready for the day.

While many mothers solve the clothing problem by running up garments on the sewing machine, others have created a rushing business for the children's wear department of city stores. Reports from merchants reveal an immediate shortage of children's wear, especially in underwear and wool socks. This shortage is alleged to be due to the labor troubles in the factories, and while large quantities of clothing were ordered early, shortages have just been "in" in the words of one city department head.

MOST OF THE MOTHERS' demands have centered on winter clothing, such as parkas and snow suits, with a view to the long winter ahead.

According to Ross Shepherd, superintendent of schools, there will be more than 15,000 children turning to city schools this term. Of this number, 1,700 are newcomers, a record high, and teaching positions have been filled and among them will be many teachers who served in the armed forces during the war.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS have undergone a sprucing up period since last July and much decorating has been done, while major improvements were made on the lighting. Mr. Shepherd reported that there was a shortage of accommodation everywhere, particularly in the Victoria high school, Highlands, Rutherford and Ritchie districts. This shortage is due not only to the increased population, but to the fact that building has been severely curtailed during recent years.

To all students, Mr. Shepherd offered the advice that the beginning of the school term is like a 100-yard dash. If you start out strong in the race and stay on at the lead position, or with the leaders, for the whole course of the term, you will be a winner.

LEWIS, IF, at the beginning of the term you start off to lose and maintain that position steadily throughout the year, there will be no doubt about the result of your school work, at examination time.

All children attend H.A. Gray school.

Pastor to Begin
Ministry Sunday
The Rev. Alfred Carter, B.A., B.D., has been appointed at the request of Wesley United Church members as the stated supply for that church, and will begin his ministry there on Sunday, Sept. 1. A congregational council for the minister and his wife will be held in the near future, and induction will take place at such time as the Edmonton Presbytery can make the proper arrangements.

MR. CARTER WAS BORN in Newmarket, Ont. 39 years ago. He came to Canada in 1929, later graduating from St. Andrew's Theological College, Saskatoon. He was ordained in Regina in 1937.

Following his ordination, he served churches in Saskatchewan and Manitoba before going to the United States, where he was pastor of Epworth Methodist church in Spokane, Washington, and First Methodist Church in Faneburg, New Hampshire. During his sojourn in the States, he studied for a Ph.D. degree at Harvard and Boston universities.

Mr. Carter is married to a wife, who has no trouble ending, as a prize winner.

LIKELIHOOD, IF, at the beginning of the term you start off to lose and maintain that position steadily throughout the year, there will be no doubt about the result of your school work, at examination time.

Alberta Minister
Will Attend Parley
Montreal has been chosen as the venue for the 1946 international labor conference for five days, commencing Sept. 19, and government labor representatives from many parts of the world are expected to attend the meeting.

Two Escape Hurts
In Freak Mishap
A freak accident Friday afternoon on Jasper avenue just east of the 8th house gave two persons a narrow escape from serious injury. The mishap occurred when the left rear wheel flew off a Model-T Ford racing bug driven by Harvey Wood, 11426 84 street as he was travelling west.

WHEN POLICE TOOK measurements it was found that before Wood's vehicle was brought to a stop it travelled for one fifth of a mile on three wheels with the left rear wheel dragging on the pavement.

The wheel travelled for 311 feet, struck the curb in front of a bicycle ridden by James Robertson, 13112 65 street, then bounced back over top of Robertson and his bicycle causing him to lose control and fall to the roadway. The wheel then hit the opposite curb and cleared the railing of the Ravine bridge to finish up on the river bank. No injuries were suffered by Wood or Robertson.

Veterans' Problems Studied at Meeting

No set of rules can measure accurately the personal problems of the war veteran, W. H. McLaren, district welfare officer, DVA, said in an address to the Southern Alberta conference of Citizens' Rehabilitation Committee chairman in the Macdonald hotel Friday afternoon.

"ALTHOUGH WE deal with files at the office we can never really solve the problems of the veterans unless we meet and talk over matters with the individual," Mr. McLaren pointed out in his address on "personal services."

Mr. McLaren said he felt the veteran has a far greater chance of successfully rehabilitating himself where he realizes his responsibility in this period of reconstruction.

NO VETERAN can succeed unless he has the sincere desire to do so, said the speaker.

To chairman of civilian rehabilitation committee he gave this advice:

Look upon the veteran as an individual, not a problem. Get him out of your community functions of social life. Help him to find the way to making his own contribution to the great task of reconstruction.

"THERE HAS BEEN altogether too much sloppy thinking on the subject of rehabilitation," Mr. McLaren declared.

Problems peculiar to the rehabilitation of service women were outlined by Agnes Smith, women's councillor, DVA.

Women have a different attitude toward the future, she said, than men. For an occupation is necessarily regarded as a stopgap as any occupation will be only temporary as a rule.

Changes in the persons' set were outlined in the conference by A. E. Dean, district pensions adviser.

The conference concluded Friday evening.

At noon delegates attending were guests of Edmonton Canadian Legion Branch No. 24 at a luncheon. President Percy W. Gwynne was chairman.

HEAD TABLE GUESTS included Mayor Harry Arnup, E. D. Reed, director of public relations, DVA, O. L. L. D. Byrne, deputy minister of economic affairs, J. W. Fraser, district administrator, DVA, W. G. Gwynne, superintendent, Rehabilitation Commission, and Const. Reginald Jenkins and Harper Prouse, M.A.

She wore a pearl necklace and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and bouvardia.

Noted Man-Hater Dies In New York

NEWARK, N.J., Aug. 31—(CP)—Louis Strittmatter, a hatred of men went beyond the borderline of sanity, a Newark court said this week in upholding objections of relatives to the will of the fanatical man-hater who died in 1944.

Miss Strittmatter, who left willings showing that she had looked forward to the scientific day when women would be able to bear children without the aid of men, left $100 and her personal effects to Miss Ruth Robbins, her second cousin, and only for the funeral and $15,000 to the National Women's Party.

Two first cousins of Miss Strittmatter, both men, joined with Mr. Robbins in contesting the will in which they were not mentioned. They alleged, and the court agreed, that Miss Strittmatter had been of unsound mind.

Urges Interest In Home, Family

MONTREAL, Aug. 31—(CP)—The Rev. P. J. Amour of the Montreal Catholic Welfare Bureau appealed Thursday to women attending a meeting of the Canadian Federation of Women's Clubs here to interest themselves fundamentally in the family and the home in the critical post-war period.

He urged the women to protect their families from all those passions, doctrines and systems of regimentation which are seeking today to destroy the family. "There is evidence of a decline manifest in every phase of Canada's and the world's life today," Father Amour said. "You women can do something about it."

After citing divorce statistics for various sections of the United States, he said divorce was "the universal cancer eating the family life of America and destroying the home."

Brazil occupied nearly one-half of the continent of South America.

Spinsters, take heart! There's still plenty of husband material in Canada.

Despite the inroads made by overseas war brides on Canada's eligible bachelors, statistics show that it's the Canadian man—not the woman—who should be worrying about matrimonial chances.

The latest figures, obtained last June by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, show that there are five men to every four women in Canada, 20 to 25 age group. And when these are "peeled" as far as possible, there still will be left a "stag line" of 88,000 men strung out across the dominion.

Women in the older age bracket will be cheered by the news that for every two women in Canada between the ages of 25 and 44, there are three men the same age.

Even Mr. and Mrs. Van Johnson, is sitting pretty, matrimonially speaking. For in the 14-19 age group, there are 817,000 boys compared to 292,000 girls.

To the bachelor tip-ooters, with one exception, it's the same story. Eligible males outnumber the females by substantial margins. British Columbia, for instance, has 1,000,000 males to 700,000 females. These are the boys and girls in the 14-19 age group.

For the marriage-minded maid, the "Golden West" is the best place in Canada to live. On the prairies, men between the ages of 20 and 24 outnumber the women almost three to two. And the overall picture is rosy.

But for the Edmonton girl, who in the light of this new knowledge may be inclined to treat her boyfriend a trifle high-handedly, here is a dash of cold water.

In Edmonton, there are 3,694 more women than men.

Ownership of Radio Station Is No Problem to Listeners

By Canadian Institute Of Public Opinion

TORONTO—While parliamentarians are busy with the radio bill, the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion has taken a look at some of the questions on which it affects the Canadian public.

There are some of the questions for which the Institute sought answers.

In view of the debate over C.B.C. versus independent stations, the Institute asked Canadians like you to state their views on the matter.

On the issue of "radio ownership," the Institute asked: "Do you favor the ownership of radio stations by the government or by private individuals?"

As a result, the Institute of Public Opinion, through its staff of trained interviewers, asked:

"Which is your favorite Canadian radio station?"

That Canadians do have a favorite radio station to a surprising extent is indicated by the fact that eight out of 10 adults interviewed picked a favorite. Twenty percent said they had no particular favorite.

Of the 20 percent who did not pick a favorite, the Institute asked: "Why do you prefer this station?"

SPOOKSES,

THE CHINAMAN is a wonderful cook and no Teenie Weenie knows that better than the Teenie Weenie Policeman. While the Policeman is making his rounds he always keeps his tiny nose lifted for whiffs of cooking that might drift out from the Teenie Weenie laundry—especially for the odor of almond cakes, of which he is mightily fond.

One evening the Policeman smelled his favorite odor and he sauntered over to the old teapot where the Chinaman lives and does the Teenie Weenie washing. After being sure that the Chinaman's vicious watch bug had been tied up to the English walnut shell that served for a bug house, he knocked on the tiny door of the teapot.

"Clum light in," said the Chinaman when he opened the door. "Mo all time think you come 'round. Mo just make fresh batch of almond cookies. Mo make fire in stove and we have pot of tea."

"It's too hot for a fire," said the Policeman, taking off his hat and coat and hanging them up. "I think something cooler would be better on a hot September night like this."

"Mo got somethings good," said the Chinaman as he brought out an acorn shell dish of fresh almond cookies. "Me bling." He produced a cherry seed pitcher of cider and two Teenie Weenie mugs, which he set on the tiny table.

The little men filled the mugs and settled down for a chat. Presently peculiar noises came from the stove. The Chinaman glanced several times at the stove, but the Policeman was quite too busy with almond cookies to notice the strange noises. "Allic same, maybe spookses in stove," ventured the nervous Chinaman.

"It's just the wind moanin' in the chimney," said the Policeman, wiping the cider from his mustache.

At that moment the stove lid banged, the tiny lid moved upward and a big caterpillar wiggled out. The caterpillar had crawled down the teapot spout which the Chinaman uses for a chimney and made its way through the pipe into the stove.

THE TEENIE WEEENIES
BY W. DONAHUE

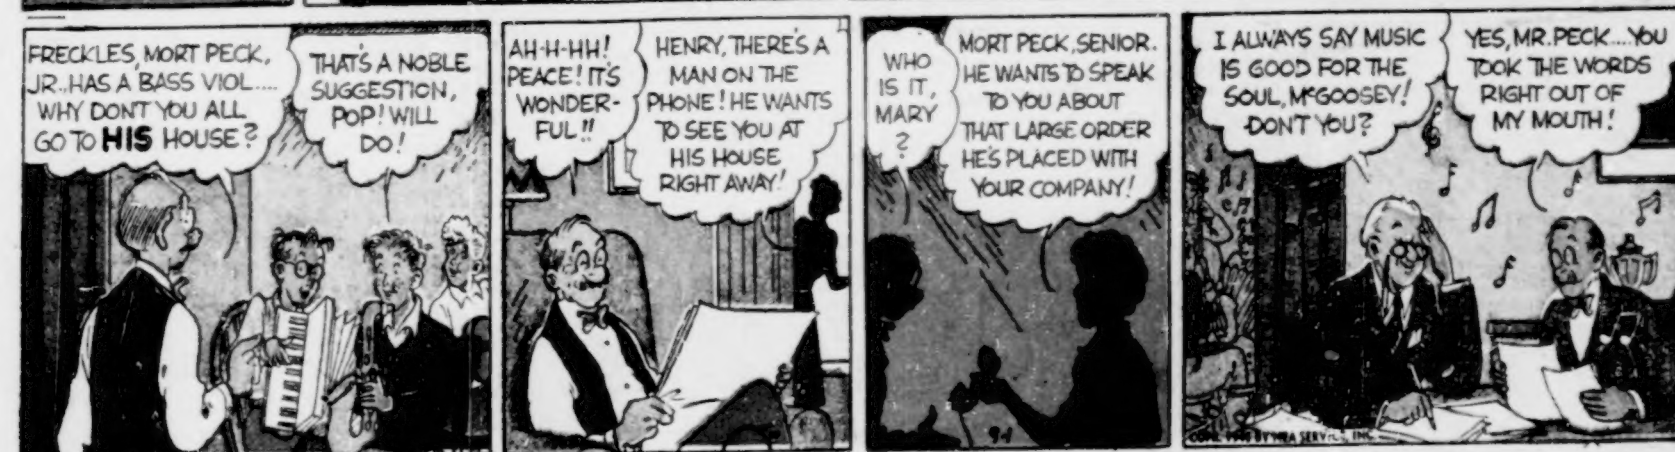

CUT ME OUT.

It would have been a very easy matter to drive the caterpillar out of the teapot, but the Chinaman did a very foolish thing. He went outside and brought in Snapper, his pet watch bug. Snapper pounced onto the caterpillar and, grabbing it in his great pincers, he fairly shook it to pieces. The tiny room was covered with caterpillar fur and the poor Chinaman spent half the night cleaning the place.

"Me no like spookses," he said to himself as he swept up the fur. "Especially spookses with furses."
